

RITCHIE TELLS
WHY HE 'RAN OUT'

NEWS OF ALL BRANCHES OF SPORT

EDITED BY ROBERT EDGRENBEHIND THE CATCHER

Now That Roy Hartzell Is Disabled It Looks as Though the Tail-end Toga of the American and the Topsail of the National Are Going to Float Side by Side in the Old Polo Grounds.

By Bozeman Bulger.

NOW that a twisted knee has laid out Roy Hartzell the Yankees might as well put a padlock on that cellar door and hibernate for the winter. It was hard enough for them to progress (what d'ye mean progress?) even with Roy in there playing all the positions, so now we might as well concede the nomination. The one consolation left to those of a sunny nature is that the Yank boys struck rock bottom early in the season and can't drop any further. Yes, sir, it looks mighty like the tail-end toga of the American and the topsail of the National are going to float side by side in the old P. G.

THEY CAN'T TAKE IT AWAY FROM US.

The Browns came here, a dozen strong, determined to oust our boys from the cellar, but in aspiring to such exclusiveness they didn't figure on just how far the Yanks could throw a baseball when they got excited with men on base. In the eighth inning our heroes started throwing that pill around, and before anybody could head it off the Browns had galloped away with the game and with enough runs left over to give them a good start to-day if it could be arranged. The Browns played just as badly as they could, but we fooled them, and there was nothing doing. We still hold the cellar against all comers.

HE CERTAINLY SHOULD HAVE AN AUTO.

Hartzell's injury is a painful one and there is no telling just how long he will be out of the game. Aside from the loss of his services there is a personal sympathy for Roy among the fans. If there was an automobile to be given to the man who had been of most service to a talented club it would certainly go to Hartzell. He has helped out in every position and has done good work whenever called upon. Roy never quits or becomes discouraged because his club is a loser.

INTRODUCING ARRIVALS FROM TEXAS.

Catcher Reynolds, recently purchased from the Houston team of the Texas League, reports to the Highlanders this afternoon and George Whiteman, an outfielder from the same club, will be here tomorrow. This seems to be an excellent opportunity for trying out new talent, and there is a chance of getting a peek at the new men before the end of the week. The deadly battle for the tail-end honors is nearing an end and when it is over we can begin to take things easy.

A KICK ISN'T WORTH $25 NOWADAYS.

Jack Sheridan, the veteran umpire, who runs an undertaking establishment during the winter at Los Angeles to get his mind off of the bad ball game, got real peeved yesterday when Jimmy Austin began to point out to him his lack of accuracy in deciding a certain play at first base. Instead of waiting for the new Brown manager to run toward him Jack dashed up to Jimmy and, with a threatening forefinger, explained to him just how silence could be golden. Jimmy declares after that scare that he will not say another word until the end of the season.

NOT MUCH USE OF WORRY NOW.

In the mean time the Giants have drawn first blood in the opening attack on the West and the Phillies are one full game further from the lead than when the campaign started. The Cardinals attended to the Doolin game nicely while Jeff Torrou was subduing the Pirates with the aid of George Burns and Chief Meyers. Once out of the Polo Grounds the old battling eye returned to the Champe and nervous fans are beginning to breathe easy.

ONCE MORE THE FIGURES.

The Giants now have but twenty-three games to play and their eight and one-half game lead appears to be so close that the Phillies cannot but expect to win the pennant. The National Commission has declared the deal void because it was not made twenty days before the end of the South-Atlantic League season. There were six other clubs after Adams and the only solution is for each of them to put in a draft and gamble on which will draw his name out of the hat.

WE CAN PROVE THAT

C. MACK SMILED.

Again the Chicago Naps have lost a golden opportunity to snap at the heels of the Athletics, and the chances are it will be thus to the end of the season. With the Athletics losing two in a row, the Naps went them one better and lost three. If they could have taken advantage of this opportunity the two teams would have been separated by less than three games.

ANOTHER BABE ADAMS

TO BOTH AROUND.

There is going to be a big squabble in the big leagues over this young fellow "Babe" Adams, who has been tearing things up by the roots in Savannah. The Athletics succeeded in buying the wonderful young pitcher, but the National Commission has declared the deal void because it was not made twenty days before the end of the South-Atlantic League season. There were six other clubs after Adams and the only solution is for each of them to put in a draft and gamble on which will draw his name out of the hat.

NO REASON WHY WE SHOULD ## BE EXCITED, AT THAT.

The Superbas, with Rucker in the box, tore into that winning streak of the Cubs with a crash that could be heard all over the West. Up until the arrival of Red Hill Dahlen and his gang Johnny Evers had won nine straight games. If Johnny had only kept this up again when the Phillies arrive, the Giants will forgive him for having prophesied that they would blow up before the first of August.

HERE'S A WORLD'S ## SERIES FOR YOU.

Not to be outdone in this talk of big prize money, Tim Murnane is going to have a world's series up there in New England all his own. The champions of the New England League and the Eastern Association have decided to fight it out for the championship of something in a seven game series, beginning Sept. 17. Tim is president of the New England League and after framing up this battle sent up all invitations. The country is liable to get mighty worked up over that.

Entry List for National Open Golf Championship
at Brookline Next Week Breaks All Records

The entries for the national open golf championship, to be played next week at Brookline, Mass., have jumped to a new record mark of 167. This is a jump from 151, the high water mark reached last year at Buffalo. The British and French players are, of course, the big attraction, and it is to their presence more than anything else that interest in the tournament is so remarkably keen this year. The home professionals seem to be determined to play in an event that is destined to make history. It will be the greatest gathering of first-class golfers ever seen here. The amateur representation is the best in years. All of the semi-finalists in this year's tournament are entered. Thirty-two players will qualify each day and on Thursday, Sept. 18, the leading sixty-four players will tee up in the championship proper.

SPORT BRIEFS.

Ankle Deep, America's Representative in International Motorboat Trophy Series, Finishes Third in First Race in English Waters.

The French motorboat Desperions D. won the first race of the International Motorboat Trophy (the Harmsworth Cup) series in Osborne Bay, London. The winner finished the course of 24 miles in 41m. 54s. The Maple Leaf IV, a British entry, was second, and Ankle Deep, America's representative, owned by Count Cassim S. Manikowski of Lake George, finished third. The Maple Leaf IV crossed the finishing line in 41m. 56s., while Ankle Deep's time was 41m. 41-42s.

Frank Borah Jr., Thomas Murphy's big brown pacer, captured the Syracuse 211 pacing stakes, valued at $5,000, at the State Fair Grand Circuit Meeting at Syracuse. Hand pressed by Leta J. the Murphy entry was forced to the limit of endurance, but showed his wonderful fighting qualities and superior stamina in the final heat when he paced the last half in 28 seconds flat, the best time made since the meeting opened.

A continuous, improved highway from New York to some point on the Pacific Coast, open to lawful traffic of all descriptions, without toll charges, and to be of concrete wherever possible, approximately 2,000 miles to be permanently improved. Such a project seems almost beyond belief. But it is now practically a certainty. A permanent organization was formed the Lincoln Highway Association, being incorporated under the laws of Michigan, with headquarters at Detroit, the name having received finally, out of a score suggested, the unanimous approval of all. H. J. Ford, president of the Packard Motor Car Company, was elected president of the association; Carl G. Fisher, vice-president; and A. R. Partridge, secretary; headquarters, Dime Bank Building, Detroit.

Rank outsiders in the betting finished first, second and third in the St. Leger Stakes, of 4,000 sovereigns, for entire colts and fillies trained in 1912, the running of which took place at Doncaster over the old St. Leger course of 1 mile 6 furlongs and 132 yards. The winner of the stakes was Night Hawk, owned by W. H. Waller, and White Magic finished second and Serenad was third. Twelve horses started. The betting was 10 to 1 against Night Hawk and 20 to 1 against White Magic and Serenad.

William Bailey, the tall young Englishman who has won the world's amateur bicycle racing championship four times, arrived here yesterday and was a spectator last night at the Newark Velodrome races. Bailey first came into international prominence when he won the amateur title at Copenhagen in 1909. He repeated at Brussels the following year, and won the world's championship for the third successive year in 1912, when it was decided at Rome. The race was run at the Newark Velodrome last year, when Donald McDougal of the New York Athletic Club was the winner.

The purple and gold racing colors of John Sanford, Amsterdam's millionaire horseman, will be seen on the French turf for the first time next summer. Sanford, however, will not desert the sport in New York State, but will continue to breed and race the product of his Amsterdam stock farm, established over a quarter of a century ago by the late Stephen Sanford. Mr. Sanford, who has been abroad for the past three months, has purchased eight yearlings as a nucleus for his breeding spring. Preston Birch, who has been engaged as trainer, has been instructed to be on the lookout for promising youngsters and will, no doubt, pick up several additional racers before the opening of the racing season.

When groups were drawn yesterday in the school match on Staten Island grounds between the Inognit eleven of England and the Gentlemen of New York the visitors had declared their first innings closed at 27 for the loss of seven wickets and the New York eleven had made exactly 100 runs with seven wickets down. For the visiting team Capt. W. G. H. Hare had top score of 118. The bowling of the Englishmen was very effective, M. Falcon taking 3 wickets for 38 runs, H. G. Mello 2 for 24 and C. E. Hatfield 1 for 14.

Jack Clarke won the first semi-official heat of the Zimmerman Stakes, a one-mile professional race, in which tandem teams were used to pace, at the Newark Velodrome. Alfred Gronda was five lengths back of Heiler and Gronda at the bell in the second semi-final, but won it by ten lengths. Goulet won the third semi-final after Ryan had prevented Spears from making any attempt to sprint until it was too late. In the final heat Clarke beat Gronda by a couple of inches.

Eddie McGoorty
Shades Levinsky

Eddie McGoorty, the Oshkosh middleweight, made his reappearance in a bout in this city after an absence of several months at the St. Nicholas A. C., and it was a fortunate thing for him that he met an opponent who was not gifted with his ring generalship, for if he had the chances are that he would have come out the loser instead of winning by a slight margin.

The boxer who made McGoorty extend himself is Battling Levinsky of Philadelphia, who a few weeks ago decided to box under his real name instead of Barney Williams.

For the first four rounds McGoorty secured a big lead over Levinsky by driving in enough punches into his body, face and jaw to make many a fighter quit. So fast did Mac get in these blows that it looked as if Levinsky would not last over the third round.

Despite this whaling Levinsky was sane and soon won the admiration of the fans by his willingness to rip in punches.

In the fourth round Levinsky rushed at McGoorty, and in the fifth exchange of blows that followed Levinsky landed so many punches to McGoorty's stomach and on his jaw that the latter began to hold on for dear life.

This good showing gave Levinsky fresh courage, and from the fifth round to the ninth he waded into McGoorty and got in many punches on him, drawing the blood from his nose in the sixth round and cutting a gash under his left eye in the eighth round from which the clear flowed in a small stream.

In the last two rounds McGoorty cut loose again and gave Levinsky many a stiff punch in the stomach with rights and lefts and also hooked him a few times on the jaw which dazed Levinsky. The latter fought back hard and, while he managed to get in some heavy wallops, McGoorty blocked most of the blows thrown at him.

In the other ten-round bout Jimmy Coffey of Harlem and Jack Head of Australia fought a slashing battle with
